

©2005 Horticoxia, Inc.

Liriope, Creeping 'Silver Dragon'

Leaf Identification

Type: Simple
Arrangement: Grows from soil without a stem
Venations: Parallel
Margins: Entire
Shapes: Linear
Length: 12in./30cm to 18in./45cm

Fruit Color Black

The fruit is fleshy and round.

Environment

This plant tolerates drought and some salt.
This plant will grow in moist to wet soil.
Suitable soil is well-drained/loamy, sandy or clay.
The pH preference is a neutral soil.

Landscape Uses

- Container plantings
- Rock garden
- Seashore planting
- Border
- Massing
- Specimen
- Groundcover
- Erosion control

Attributes and Features

- Naturalizing

Liriope spicata 'Silver Dragon'

Creeping Lilyturf, Lilyturf, Creeping Liriope
Liliaceae (Lily)

Type Perennial
Hardy range 4B to 10A
Height 6" to 12" / 15cm to 30cm
Spread 12" to 36" / 30cm to 90cm
Growth rate Average
Form Rounded and upright or erect
Exposure Full shade to full sun
Persistence Evergreen

Bloom Color Lavender, purple and white
Bloom Time Summer

The flowers are showy and suitable for cut flowers.

Leaf Color Green and variegated
Fall Color No change in fall color
This plant has attractive foliage.

Native Habitat

China, Japan

Crown, Branch and Twig

This plant is symmetrical with a fine texture and has a moderately dense crown.

Propagation and Root Form

Propagation is from division.
This plant grows from a rhizome.

Pests, Diseases and Damaging Agents

Pests: slugs, snails

© Copyright 2000, Horticipia, Inc.